 Uksim, For English Speakers  www.uksim.org.ar

For those who have the attitude of serving, to be an instrument of service, it is fundamental the detachment of concepts, actions and formulas, which have nothing to do with the landings where consciousness must be localized.

The scope of a devoted being in the service is unlimited. Any conjecture would be invalidated. A being in service may be used in different levels of consciousness for multiple issues. In times such as these, where cosmic laws regulate in this cycle, are being driven in high vibrational resonances, and everything is being taken advantage of by the hierarchies.

The impulses received are of power never manifested in this Universal world - Earth, and the capacity of human beings is being highly transmuted. This capacity to which we refer, in many cases, has nothing to do with the possibility of being able to perceive or evaluate from external levels and with materials parameters. This ability is being driven and integrated in the monadas* level, and from there to the other levels in descending order, according to what the Plan deems necessary in intensity and form.

Within this process, we find, for example, the adequacy of the light body, so necessary for the processes of this end of the cycle. The thorough optimisation of this expansion is completely conditioned to the attitude of the beings receiving it; from the internal levels, creating impulses, the keys for their evolutionary waves.

In the current planetary transition, it is necessary to collaborate with the adjustments of the energies, which serve the Evolutionary Plan to cover certain aspects.

One of the most vital and significant energies of this Plan is group work.

This evolutionary group work carried out by beings who had voluntarily offered themselves on the surface of this planet, and they assume in various levels of consciousness, the task of forming the nuclei of light that channelled the fundamental impulses in future global developments.

Concerning the awakening of consciousness in this transition, it was planned by the hierarchies a greater responsibility on the part of the rescuable beings.

The great pollution of the three-dimensional plan and the karma activated by the humanity of surface (primarily due to the agonizing situation of the infra-human kingdoms) are an active part in the impediments by which more nurtured and uniform evolutionary group work can be carried out.

We are made aware that many beings who incarnated on this cycle, with the task of assisting in the formation of these cores group, have succumbed to opposing embattle, in many cases, irreversible.

Our giving has nothing to do with human parameters; we cannot allow our human logic to intervene in a fact that must be governed entirely by the impulses that, from our inner being, are poured as an irrepressible spring.

It is from the depths of our being that we are being driven to total donation, to break with the ancient barriers of fear and illusion. Human beings receive broad and deep impulses to connect these processes; true communion is there, waiting for our decision to take it.

*Monada- the new suggested word for the word spirit. Due to the interference and misuse of the real meaning of word spirit.

True communion is the consciousness of the Whole; it is to let go of everything so that we can be free to bond with unity.

By changing all that is known, it is that the new life will manifest itself. The Unique Life will freely manifest itself, and the men of this earth will be his reflection, and it will be fulfilled that of: in his image and likeness...

ଓମ୍

The genuine search for truth opens gaps in darkness and allows the implantation of Light.

ଓମ୍

It is not an indispensable part of the processes of a being in service, to take care of understanding everything. This is not always possible, but it is essential to undertake in exchange for understanding.

ଓମ୍

It is much more valuable to the Evolutionary Plan, a high-entrepreneurship being that follows impulses of its inner being, than a high-understanding being gained by inertia and games of power.

ଓମ୍

The seed for the manifestation of a higher quality of life beats at the core of each being and bids to manifest itself continuously and tirelessly, even in beings whose apparent evolutionary level makes them seem confronted with the changes that are already unleashed in this planetary transition. The prisoner - light, whatever its chains, is fighting for its liberation.

ଓମ୍

It is of great importance in these times, in order to be able to develop and manifest what corresponds to each individual, the concretize possibility of expanding to ever greater levels, the awareness of our activity at other levels of existence, and that our material being give it as a reflection, a greater space to that reality.

ଓମ୍

The deepest gratitude must be present in the beings to whom the opportunity to serve is offered. The possibility to serve the Evolutionary Plan in this process, it is a gift that most human beings the surface of the planet, have not been able to understand its true magnitude. The Unique Life beat at the door of those who, soon to return to matter, reaffirmed their vows of self-summoned, and now, reincarnated at the end of this cycle, must carry out their task.

To direct their service, it is necessary for the self- summoned to fully open to the Perception of the laws. A continuous and uninterrupted search for acceptance and obedience is fundamental. We are continually radiated by consciousnesses responsible for adapting, to our evolutionary level, impulses that would otherwise be outside our range of uptake; this means that a spring tailored to each of us individually is poured incessantly.

The impediment to drink from that source is our attitude, our identification with devitalized or outdated forms, which only serve as a ballast for our liberation. The clarity with which a being carries out its task is directly related to the acquisition and implementation in its deepest nuclei, of the appropriate patterns for the qualification of it.

Contact with higher fires allows high-level vibratory resonance states; directly linked to processes of transmutation and cure, a process that in these times of planetary urgency was accelerated. It is through these fires that an intense purification is possible.

Every being who is awakening to these realities must maintain a firm impersonal position; should cultivate an impartial attitude, without trying to go through any mental perception of these realities, reflections of very intense internal processes; processes, which are necessary for the tuning of being, and that will allow integration with sources of a higher evolutionary level.

Like a well-trained ballet and consorted in its role, groups without any connection on the specific plan will be formed and will and carry forward the indications received from the Hierarchy in a synchronised and harmonious way. Its components, in a large percentage, will also be working together in the internal groups.

Many of these spiritual groups are already established, are of invaluable value to future planetary events, where they will form, as the case may be, triangulations with extraterrestrial beings and with intra-land, within the rescue operation in the current planetary evacuation.

Some of these groups will work in total secret, and others openly recipients of those beings with who contact must be made. This has a direct relationship to the work for which a group materialises in the three-dimensional planes.

Only by firmly maintaining specific guidelines is that a group can carry on its task. Although it is true that a high impulse, coming from the inner planes, encourages the evolutionary development of humanity, the negative aspects are also fed by the powerful energy of that same source.

Throughout the history of humanity, group work has played a leading role, in line with the regent cycle and the evolution of that humanity. Today we are told that, in order to act in the coming cycle and due to the preparation, that we must go through, evolutionary group work has greater protection and importance than in other stages. This makes the groups one of the targets most besieged by involuntary forces. It is for this reason that continuous purifications collaborate with the transmutation of corroded elements within the group work, reaching, if necessary, the deactivation of a group. Beyond the group role, in the decisive moments that will soon have theater on the surface of this planet, is immediately accepted, the fundamental acceptance of the constant performance of a group's task, as a planetary service.

When aligned to the task, a group is a living pole of the manifestation-consciousness of Hierarchy. Regarding the task; The manifestation of the effectiveness of a group has nothing to do with the quantitative profile of its members, but with the manifested qualitative spectrum. A small group can be a channel of a precious flow of energies and, aligned, carry out tasks that from a limited point of view, would be almost impossible.

A large number of factors influence the conformation of a spiritual group. Some of these factors are of an exoteric profile, and others, of a deep inner sense.

This tells us that the conjunctions of beings that are bound in group work cannot be analyzed from the mental level. The actions of the internal groups and schools, the work of the mirrors, the regency and influence of veiled astrological impulses, the combinations resulting from the games of polarities, karmic interactions, as well as the evolutionary processes in the superhuman levels, among other things, make each group possesses unique characteristics. If each being gives, in the corresponding plan, and contributes a particular karmic note, the group creates and emanate its own unique vibration.

Would be determined that a group, which has outgrown the mental level to serve the plan as a conductive instrument of higher energies, escapes any presumptions limited to the three-dimensional area. Rays and lineages are also determining factors in the complex composition of group work.

For the proper functioning of a group, the understanding and acceptance of the hierarchical structure are essential. If the hierarchical correlation is not understood and accepted, the resulting is a non – aligned group, interfered in its contact with the Hierarchy.

In every group structure, there are beings that nourish with their presence (and what we are referring to here, has nothing to do with a marked prominence on the part of these beings) a great channel with regard to impulses coming from immaterial plans; beings that, by their evolutionary process, are assigned to collaborate with the organization of structures. Which allow to implementation of the archetype for which the group members have been formed. When these beings can be alignment with the task and carry it forward, they are, on the physical plan (at a certain level and state of consciousness) the materialization of a Hierarchy.

A certain aspect of the group work protected by the hierarchy is unfolding through those beings whose offer has been accepted. Offering that will not always be completely clear in the external planes of a being's consciousness. Offering that a being may not know and ignore completely.

The personality and the movements of the ego are, as we know, are some of the entrance doors for the actions of retrograde forces. The risks, in this sense, increases when members of a group do not delineate the personal processes and contaminated forms of relationship.

It is the deformed and insubordinate personality of a being, which prevents the total giving and corresponding obedience in each plan, where the task manifests through its mentors.

ଓ଼ି

Love, a deep and encompassing love, superhuman, devoid of certain aspects that no longer correspond as tools for this cycle, is also a fundamental element of the group's chemistry for the assumed task. There is no task in this universe in which we participate, that does not need love as a constant qualifier.

An individual or group task cannot be assumed without the presence of love. There is no service if there is no love. There is no giving if there is no love.

It is love, in its highest conception, in its most profound cosmic alchemy, the mortar that keeps everything connected.

There is no true inner protection in a group task if love is not present.

A group is hardly related to matters that are beyond the mental level, if love is not present- the primary qualifier of that group, in its alignment with the source and its envoys.

Ignorance is not an impediment. Confusion is not an impediment.
The lack of love is an impediment.

Love that cannot be seen in action is a non-existent love.

We are not talking here about the three-dimensional perception of that higher impulse, but about its unmistakable acquisition by internal means.

ଓ଼ି

You know that the search should be undertaken internally, the great key could be found only within you. You must direct your intention to contact with your deepest core, and only thus will the way to the Father arise before you with a strength and clarity you have never evidenced before.

It is impossible to follow formulas for integration. Only in the silence of your inner contact will your aspirations be directed, and for the first time will recognize what you are, and will be free.

ଓ଼ି

In your quest you have reached the bank of the Great River, do not try to go around it. If we do so than what good would the path serve for? Don't be undecided either, just wetting your feet in the current. Wouldn't the sun punish your dry backs for lack of the refreshing stream?

Dive into the stream and don't even leave your nose out. Don't you realize that now your path is a River of Life?
Don't you realize that the time has come to drink from the Water of Life that was announced?

ଓ଼ି

A being in service who is incarnated on this planet, and who is protected and recognized by the hierarchy as a channel of light, said that "it is not to compensate each other that the servants meet in working groups, but to manifest the evolutionary plan."

Therefore, external discipline must be necessary as well. That same being, representative of the Universal Fraternity, also said that "many aspirants transfer to the spiritual path personal dreams of human fulfilment. This delays their own steps, not being strange to drag with them some immature companion."

The two phrases, one directly and the other indirectly, refer to the discipline. As beings that are going through our development evolutionary process, discipline is an indispensable imperative. Discipline, as a connecting vehicle between the perception of what is to be carried out and its realization, is inevitable and irreplaceable.

Those who attempt to realize part of their planetary service through group work cannot ignore the profound sense of what discipline really means.

When it prints its highest manifestation, discipline is nothing more than coming into connection with what must be carried out, and capturing the right rhythms for its concreteness and implementation. Discipline is also total obedience and adherence to the laws; it is not possible to obey the laws without considering what this term requires of us.

The discipline is the instrument that harnesses the bodies and the will, predisposes them to the action of energies of other levels of consciousness.

Strong egos, very strong personalities, usually fall into a common point: through the transfer of illusions projecting on the spiritual path, what we might call human goals, which have nothing to do with the contact of inner life and its unfolding. When these people are going through these processes, it is common to have an influence on some beings open to the spiritual work, who are often manipulated by forces that are activated in the process.

Those who sincerely want to serve the Plan should never lose sight of the purpose. This purpose is never intended for the stimulation of the personality, but to its subordination as a tool of the higher self.

The tool composed of materials suitable to function in the denser plans, plans for which were formed.

From a broader point of view, and taking into account what is necessary for a group work, what if many tools, potentially useful and suitable for cutting and polishing, to grind and adjust, were deposited on a workshop board - a group - and each of them decided to activate itself and enter a certain type of role, without taking into account the will of the craftsman who collects them? The result would be chaos.

The egos tools must be aligned with the governor's task. The higher impulse of the Plan, the energy, will guide the will of the tools, and the craftsman will do his job, without there being the obstacle of their poorly-focused will. The tool must serve, not to choose how and where to serve, that is the work of the craftsman.

The purpose of a number of tools in group work cannot be achieved if they do not first form a single and unique tool, machine of the Evolutionary Plan.

The times announced it, the wind scatters it throughout the Universe-Earth: "Poor is the one who builds the house of man, and does not understand that it is the time to build the house of the Father."

Ambition, ostentation, boasting, are the constitutive energies for building a man house, where all activity and effort are consumed entirely by the house.

When embodied the house of the Father, sustains us inside as a divine framework.

ଓ଼ି

If beings were to use more means at their disposal for the development of consciousness, we are referring to impulses that come from their inner being - predisposing themselves to states of stillness and attention, perhaps some writings like these would not be necessary. The information would arrive more homogeneously and in aligned language with its recipient. However, the Hierarchy has had to channel much stronger impulses than expected for the widening of different levels. More writings are channeled, in a cycle where humanity should be much more receptive to instruction and clarification through internal paths.

ଓ଼ି

You must be attentive and sufficiently free to know how and when to go, also, when to recognize those who should come to you. The exercising of true freedom will put you in receptive conditions of level and intensity never before experienced by you.

You will learn to follow the signs unequivocally; each of you will be guided in the way appropriate to your evolutionary process, and in the conditions where your service should be carried out.

The Hierarchy is establishing a profound bond with those who have said yes.

The urgency of these times of transition demands this.

Be unconcerned by that which has nothing to do with the task.

Be busy with the task, and you'll always be doing the right thing.

ଓ଼ି

Wake up men of the earth, take your obligations. Be worthy of what you offered, and it has been accepted.

Don't you that you have chosen the path of fear?

Don't you realize that only fear can avoid total surrender and burning faith?

Immerse yourself in the glory of the Father, do not be afraid, do not despair.

If your choice is lukewarm, like the water of doubtful appearance, only you are responsible for that.

Only fools think they can make up for the lost time.

Listen... hear the wails, the greatest and strongest come from within you, they come from the captive light in your dark bodies. Free the Light, free the Light and free the Light, everything you need is available to you.

You are the chisel by which the Court awaits, you are the strong steel still untampered, everything is in you. Open yourselves to the wind that sweeps everything and cleans it, allow it to be purified. Thank you for every tear and every jolt, for every time you come out of these onslaughts you will be different.

Many of you were placed in certain junctures so that you could serve the Plan in the most appropriate way. Many of you, too, will be helped to overcome tests that will, in appearance, overcome you.

We're at your side, we always were. Your impressions and perceptions of loneliness is because of the transitional consciousness state. Follow the prompts faithfully, do not hesitate, take your task with the Father as what is: the most important and the only real task. The rest forms mainly a network of illusions of which, almost entirely, you are responsible.

Groups of beings are being shaped throughout this Universe-Earth. These groups obey impulses that you cannot decipher, but you obey. The key to these groups is to shelter-in levels that are protected from mental-emotional pollution, which attacks you permanently. The acting of the cosmic commands in relation to the formation and instruction of these planetary service groups, have total control over the circumstances that surround these processes of organization. Where necessary you will begin to receive with clarity, all indications and necessary tools for your task.

Activate your task, ask for Grace, and Grace will be poured out upon you as water of life. Seek in silence and prayer Our Light. In heaven, our signs will be the codes of our life in the Father. Symbol of the times. Our presence will fill you with peace and will help you to corroborate the accuracy of your internal compass. You must be vigilant, for each cycle keeps within itself a rhythm and an impulse that is of its own. Do not forget that you can only serve if you are in a position to let go of everything. You must, to be fulfilled, achieve a void that allows you to be like an instrument in whose box, the hand of the performer prints the perfect melody.

Get ready; achieve what will allow you to integrate with the Unique Life.

Love and Light

(Impulse issued by a Being of ERKS)

The light of awakening is among men; the unique energy alleviates life in countless states. Look ahead, and you see the oscillation of the universe, the dynamics that all encompass it. Every occasion must be seized as the only one, you must see in all the will of the Father.

The significance of your service transcends your current understanding. You are immersed in a process that for you presents itself as omni-encompassing.

Be on guard; you must be vigilant to keep and maintain one of the temples that you have to protect.

You are the custodians of an area that manifests itself in various levels of consciousness and existence.

You are part of the guardians of one of those levels.

Change as much as necessary, have no fears, you shall receive in return contact with impulses that are at your disposal.

The search should keep certain guidelines in order not to fall into weary sets of force.

Do not lose your humility, beware of pride. You know (as you have already been told) that everything is transient and illusory, that there is no way or a better place to serve; the best place to serve is the one where you give everything without expecting anything in return. The best way to serve is to adapt to the demands without regretting the acting or missing elements.

We accompany your adjustments; we do not handle you indiscriminately.

We only accompany you, and as your authorization becomes more concrete and profound, our interaction with you also grows and becomes closer.

You must learn to measure your strengths; it is still long the distance for your consciousness, the short stretch that separates you from the unity and harmony that will govern this planet.

When we talk about adequate voltage, that includes the care of your vital strength.

You must, attuned to a principle of synthesis, learn the adequacy and quadrature of the circumstances that involve you as participants or protagonists.

You must understand that there is always a reason for you to live a particular situation and that it is not for you to judge or perform an analysis.

Prepare for the Greater Encounter, free yourself of your burdens so that the Light of your Greater Encounter will operate without interference.

Pray and gather yourself, wait in silence for the meeting with your Older Brothers, feel in the silence of the valleys the Melodies of ERKS.

In the pulsar of the Mirrors, you will be tuned and receive the necessary transmutation to each case. In the aroma of the valleys you will receive the symbol of your future life.

Peace

(Impulse issued by a Being of ERKS) *

ERKS, state of consciousness, an Intra-terrestrial Civilization that in its physical counterpart can be located in the mountains of Córdoba, Argentina. It is one of the three largest Planetary Mirrors, along with MIZ TLI TLAN and AURORA. One of the interpretations of this term in the Irdin language is a Cosmic Stars Remnant Station.*

ଓଓ

Overcome the unclean disruptive habits that prevent you from being free, you see in your smallness and then you will discover your greatness, know sparks to understand that you are bonfires, discover yourselves as a small drop, to share and encompass the immense sea of Cosmos, and understand definitely that your greatness is only in service, that your fire is only if you overcome darkness and enlighten the dark impoverished, and that you conform to the immense sea only if you placate the thirsty.

ଓଓ

Outside of time and preconceived norms, there is the action of beings who begin to collaborate with the Evolutionary Plan.

A commitment individual to Planetary Service begins to be governed by Laws that are the governors where that commitment merges with broader states of consciousness. The individuals should not try to evaluate their progress, that prevent the precious energy to fulfil the purpose. The beings in service must forget themselves. Beings in service must be like the beacons that shine in the storm and forget to shine for their rejoicing.

Is it not in total darkness that the lighthouse fulfils its function in solidarity? And isn't it that by donating his light, it doesn't go unnoticed by the disoriented navigator, who seeks the warm asylum of the port saviour. Seek deep within your being the lighthouse keepers that you are. Sweep with your light on the immense night of the human soul and in the storm, which the boat symbolized in their bodies, passes through at this end of the cycle.

Don't expect any reward, that's not why you're emanating light. Do not seek any recognition, for your only quest must be to serve the Whole. Exercise patience and giving. Do you not know that many times, those who are helped put at risk the one who helps them, and only will and love prevent the two from sinking?

You must see your Older and Younger Brothers with the same eyes.

ଓଓ

A law is first and foremost a state of consciousness. For the beings who begin to transcend certain Evolutionary state, a Law reveals itself as an entity. For the current state of this planet, are becoming present laws that, in interaction, prepare the redeemable beings in this period of transition, and incorporate the possibility of descent, until the denser plans of the etheric physical, of the new patterns through which the archetype will have to be embodied.

A Spiritual Center is not the result of a human choice, is the capture and posterior obedience of the implementation in the concretized plans, an element of the Planetary Service provided by the Plan, to complement a network composed of different levels of consciousness.

Uksim is the reception of an impulse, is emission-capture, is a resonance that captured and accepted, becomes revealed as a form of polarization toward the internal worlds.

Groups of beings that make its preparation in relation to certain areas of the Evolutionary Plan, will make contact with the UKSIM state of consciousness and in this way to channel their service by broadening the spectrum of their tasks.

The beings who begin to awaken, are called to take its place.

In some cases, UKSIM SYMBOLIZES that place.
